Some staff, about one-third, made it in to work on Monday, but it wasn’t until late in the day that Hawley learned that FedEx and other carriers would pick up packages.

For example, even though rivalry is often fierce in commodity industries, it may not be the factor limiting profitability.